Trinidad, Colo.-Pleading with 200 minigrant miners, only a small per centage of whom could understand his sharply spoken English words, Maj. W. Holbrook of the Fifth United States cavalry urged in mass meeting at Camp San Rafael that the strikers deliver their arms and ammunition to the United States authorities. After he had gone the group divided and heard interpreters repeat, in some form, the remarks of Maj. Holbrook. The matter of disarmament, it was innounced by William Diamond, union leader, would not be put to a referendum vote of the miners, but would be left to the inclination of the individual strikers who, he said, owned the weapons in their possession. Maj. Holbrook informed the strikers that the proclamation for disarmament included everybody except those in actual service of the United States. He said that even the sheriff and police of Trinidad would not be allowed to carry weapons of any sort.

The strikers listened attentively, applauding now and then, and at the close of the talk Mr. Diamond divided the listeners into five groups, one for each of the predominating languages of the colony-Greek, Slavish, Italian, Spanish and English. These went with their interpreters to discuss the proposition of giving up their arms.

Washington, D. C., May 8.-The wedding of Miss Eleanor Randolph Wilson, youngest daughter of President Wilson, and William Gibbs Mc-Adoo, secretary of the treasury, took place Thursday at six o'clock p. m., in the blue room of the White House. The wedding procession proceeded from the main stairway into the corridor, through the north door of the blue room, to the platform erected in the south bay window of the room. Miss Sallie McAdoo led the procession, followed by Mrs. Sayre and Miss directly preceded the bride, who was escorted by the president. The groom, with Dr. Cary Travers Grayson, met the wedding party at the altar. Mr. McAdoo wore evening clothes and Dr. Grayson were his uniform. Rev. Sylvester W. Beach performed the cere-

Supper was served at small tables in the state dining room. The decora tions of the blue room were lilies and ferns, and the decorations in the dining-room were pink and white roses.

Handsome Wedding Presents. In spite of the small list of invited guests the wedding presents were numerous. Prominent among them were the beautiful silver tea service, given by the members of the house of representatives, a piece of jewelry from members of the senate, twelve silver plates and a platter from the cabinet members and their wives, and a handsome gift from the justices of the Supreme court. From the diplomatic corps, no member of which was in vited, came flowers and good wishes The bride's bouquet was of orange blossoms, white orchids and lilies of the valley. The flower girls carried white chip hats, hung by ribbons, filled with flowers. Miss Margaret Wilson's gown was of soft blue crape with panniers and waist of blue tulle. The neck was

Sketch of Mrs. McAdoo.

Mrs. McAdoo is the only one of the three daughters of the president who has evinced no inclination to pursue an accomplishment or perfect herself in any branch of study. Like her mother, she has talent as an artist in oils and has spent two seasons at the Academy of Fine Arts in Philadelphia. She has a keen sense of humor, and much of a diplomat. She is the only member of the White House family who has a nickname. She is called 'Nell."

In appearance, Mrs. McAdoo is tall, slender, with a girlish figure, and a light, swinging gait. She has a pleas ant smile, fine teeth, a rather large mouth, blue eyes topped with dark brows and fringed with dark lashes, a fine clear white skin and quantities of soft, straight, dark hair. She rides, dances, swims and rows well and is quite a linguist. Her place in society as the wife of the secretary of the treasury will now be next to that of Mrs. Bryan.

Career of the Groom.

Mr. McAdoo was born in Georgia in 1863, of a family which had been wealthy, but had lost their all in the Civil war.
